6 of 6 review helpful A Concise Yet Informative Study of Some Of the Most Unconventional Units of WWII By octagon The Italian military of the World War II era had some very innovative concepts and equipment. However unfortunately for them yet fortunately for the rest of the World the execution was often wanting. As this well written and researched book explains Italy simply didn't have the resources or political will. This volume assesses the formidable special forces fielded by Italy's navy and air force in World War II both before and after Italy's surrender in September 1943. The Italian Navy special forces were particularly active and respected in the Mediterranean where 10th Motor Torpedo Boat Flotilla Xa MAS used frogmen, two man torpedoes and explosive ram boats. Italian midget submarines were also deployed against the Soviet Navy in the Black Sea. After September 1943 "This coverage uses vintage rare wartime photos and new color pictures of uniforms and equipment to narrow the focus on the unit's many achievements with M Stacey's illustrations making this a key survey for any World War II military collection."
