From University Press of Southern Denmark : Revolution from Above: The Power of State in 16th and 17th Century Scandin Revolution from Above: The Power of State in 16th and 17th Century Scandin:

In the 16th and 17th centuries the states of Europe underwent a series of changes which created the foundation for the state of today. The Nordic countries played their part in that process but also demonstrated differences relative to each other Scandinavia appears in this context as an interesting area for study Three Nordic researchers have analysed some of these changes and their consequences at the level of the state the region and the local district During th
